

That's Not In the Bible

July 13 - 27, 2025

Overview

This sermon series, "That's Not In the Bible," aims to challenge common cultural sayings that people often assume are biblical truths. Each week, the series will delve into a widely held belief, juxtaposing it with Scripture to uncover the deeper, more transformative truths of God's Word. By addressing these misconceptions, the series seeks to equip the congregation with a better understanding of biblical teachings and inspire them to live according to the truth of Scripture rather than popular sayings.

Through this series, participants will:

- Learn to discern between cultural clichés and biblical truth.
- Deepen their engagement with Scripture by exploring its context and meaning.
- Reflect on how these truths shape their daily lives and relationship with God.

The Goals of the Series

- Equip the congregation with tools to identify and correct misconceptions about biblical teachings.
- Foster a deeper appreciation for the richness and depth of Scripture.
- Encourage practical application of biblical truths in daily living.

Week 1 | Everything Doesn't Happen for a Reason | John 9:1-12

This sermon tackles the idea that "everything happens for a reason," a phrase often used to explain suffering. Through the story of the man born blind, Jesus refutes this notion, showing instead that God's works can be revealed in the midst of suffering. The message emphasizes that not all hardships have a divine purpose, but God's grace and power can transform any situation.

Week 2 | God Helps More Than Those Who Help Themselves | Luke 18:15-17

This sermon challenges the saying, "God helps those who help themselves." By looking at Jesus' interaction with children, we see that God's kingdom is open to the humble, dependent, and those who recognize their need for God. The message will explore how grace—not self-reliance—is the foundation of our faith and relationship with God.

Week 3: More Than Love and Hate | Luke 22:47-53

This sermon addresses the oversimplification of human emotions with phrases like, "hate the sin, love the sinner." By reflecting on Judas's betrayal and Jesus' response in the Garden of Gethsemane, the congregation will learn about the complexity of love, loyalty, and betrayal. The message highlights that love, as modeled by Jesus, transcends emotions and is rooted in action and sacrifice.
